

04
MARCH
2025

19:00 – 20:00

University of Luxembourg
Esch/Alzette, Belval Campus
Maison du Savoir (MSA), Room 3.350

Humanities

BILINGUALISM MATTERS EVENT

Navigating monolingual and multilingual spaces

DESCRIPTION

Many parents are multilingual and wonder how best to support children in their language learning journey, whether at home or within early childhood education institutions. Should languages be separated, and if so, why and how? How many languages can children learn at the same time? Is early language learning really the best? Are some languages more useful for learning than others?

This session debunks certain myths about multilingualism and presents principles, methods, and strategies to promote language learning at home.

PROGRAM

19:00 – 19:30 Talk (in presence or online)

19:30 – 20:00 Question-answer-session and drinks (in presence)

ORGANISATION & REGISTRATION

Before the 15th February:

isabel.jimenez@ext.uni.lu

Please specify if you attend online or come in person.

BILINGUALISM MATTERS
@Luxembourg

□ FACULTY OF HUMANITIES,
EDUCATION AND
SOCIAL SCIENCES