ABOUT THE STAFF WEEK

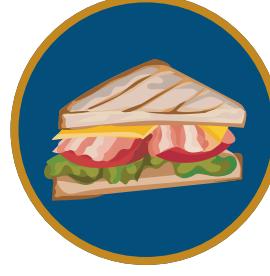

This Staff Training Week offers evidence-based insights & practical tools to help you foster happiness, meaningful work, and well-being in higher education settings.

Participants will explore how job crafting and positive work practices can enhance productivity, creativity, resilience, and overall job satisfaction - and how these approaches can be applied in their own institutions.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

The program features contributions from renowned international researchers, including an expert from the Happiness Research Institute. By addressing happiness at work from cognitive, emotional, and spiritual perspectives, the training provides a rich, interdisciplinary learning experience grounded in current research and practice.

WHAT IS INCLUDED

Registration, coffee breaks, lunches, gala dinner, social events, materials and guided city tour.

Travel fees and accommodation are not included.
