

Master thesis research grant

Human Behaviour and Sustainability

Call for Applications

Deadline: 30 January 2026

Audience: Students of the University of Luxembourg registered in a Master's programme

Award Amount: 2 000 to 4 000 euros

Overview

The University of Luxembourg is pleased to announce the opening of applications for the Look Up Now – in memoriam of Laure Belin research grant, aimed at supporting master students in researching and writing their thesis in the intersecting domains of Human Behaviour and Sustainability.

This research grant is designed to promote ambitious thesis work on this emerging and innovative research area and provide support to develop attractive ideas and realise substantial field work to propose an interesting subject for a doctoral thesis.

The research grant is funded by Mrs. Véronique Degbomont, founder and CEO of Arpeggio (Luxembourg) S.à.r.l..

Eligibility Criteria

Applicants must meet the following requirements:

- Be enrolled in a Master's programme at the University of Luxembourg and conducting their Master thesis in the academic year 2025-26
 - Be endorsed by his/her thesis supervisor.
-

Application Requirements

To apply, candidates must submit:

1. Completed Application Form
 2. Short Statement of Support by the thesis supervisor
-

Selection Process

Applications will be reviewed by a selection committee based on:

- Research Excellence
 - Relevance to Theme
 - Feasibility
 - Budget Justification
 - Dissemination Potential
-

How to Apply

Submit your complete application package via email by 30 January 2026 to:

laurent.betry@uni.lu

Contact

For inquiries, please contact:

Laurent Betry, Chief Sustainability Officer

Email: laurent.betry@uni.lu

Phone: +352 46 66 44 5779
